

ADVANCED CORROSION PROTECTION

Our entire frame, from chassis to walls to roof, is 100% dipped in ARMORTECH for the ultimate metal treatment defense against rust and corrosion. ARMORTECH chemically grafts with steel to form a protective skin that is impervious to moisture and today's harsh, anti-icing agents. If the surface coating is scratched, ARMORTECH remains intact and continues to protect the coated area around the exposed metal. No rust creep!

HIGH-STRENGTH, LOW-ALLOY (HSLA) ROLL-FORMED STEEL

A staple in the automotive industry, HSLA steel has a higher strength-to-weight ratio and more natural corrosion resistance than carbon steel. The roll-forming process enhances material strength by creating less material fatigue than traditional stamping. Translation — VERY STRONG!

ENTIRE FRAME ROBOTICALLY WELDED

Spot-on micron precision for the perfect weld every time. The result is a true, square, straight frame that only an engineer could love. Or, anyone else who's into that "durability" thing.

PATENT-PENDING FRAME DESIGN

We started from scratch and took nothing for granted. Tossed out convention and leveraged modern engineering concepts to deliver a stronger, lighter and smarter frame. Then, we tested our new trailer on the proving grounds and tortured it at 100% cargo capacity for thousands of miles to prove out our design. The results surpassed our expectations and the competition. Different is better!

TRAILERS REVOLUTIONIZED

Haulmark's goal when designing the new V-Series CARGO trailer was to set the industry benchmark for durability & performance for years to come. High-strength, low-alloy (HSLA) steel, patent-pending roll-formed components and 100% dip-coated frame for ultimate corrosion resistance. JOB DONE!
